Welcome to 2017 Miss Intercontinental USA and Star Pageantry International. It is with great pleasure that I personally welcome you all as we strive to redefine the world of pageantry. These young women and men are more than just an image. This is a year of new beginnings and possibilities. The young ladies and young men competing have worked hard to accomplish their goals and dreams and have shown such dedication, poise and grace. My hope is that each of the contestants participating in these pageantry systems produced by Nu Tainment, LLC. is taking this opportunity that has been given to them to have a phenomenal and rewarding experience and that they will have made friendships that will last a lifetime. You are all winners in my eyes.

My sincere appreciation goes to the families, friends and sponsors of the contestants for the love and support you have shown. Thank you for helping to make all of this possible.

Miss Intercontinental USA and Star Pageantry International organization is very excited to offer the women and men who compete in our pageants the opportunity to excel and grow. We also offer opportunities to be signed with our talent management organization to assist and manage their careers.

“CROWN AND MEDALLION WITH A PURPOSE” is our motto.

This is just the first step to greatness! The opportunity awaits you. What you do with it defines your character and purpose. It is up to you to make the most out of all opportunities provided to you. Your action is what speaks loudest.

We are looking for ambassadors to inspire and build self-esteem and confidence in individuals whom they meet across the diverse world in which we live. Our contestants achieve our mission by showcasing each individual's unique presence, personality, health, fashion, and creativity; Talent through the form of spoken words, dance, song, self-expression and other art forms; Advocacy for charity, the underprivileged, humanity, equality and other causes; Respect for the uniqueness of other nations, backgrounds, life experiences, and beliefs.

We aim to be recognized as a leading world organization that empowers women and men by supporting them towards achieving their individual goals through power and grace, commitment and intelligence, style and substance. Miss Intercontinental USA and Star Pageantry International goals are to uphold the four points of the crown / medallion:

Service, Confidence, Success and Style:

- SERVICE: To create patterns of positive lifestyle and to educate all regarding women and men issues and to devote a year of service promoting the Miss Intercontinental USA / Star Pageantry International program. Their year of service provides them the forum to share not only their platform and their talent, but also the opportunity to express their views on local, regional, national and global issues.
- CONFIDENCE: Empowering, Intelligence, Style and Grace. Each ambassador builds confidence progressing through experience gained through various aspects of our pageantry system. Confidence to instill the belief that you can accomplish anything that you put your mind to achieve.
- SUCCESS: To support a nationwide organization of dedicated volunteers who devote time, talent and resources for the betterment and longevity of the Miss Intercontinental USA and Star Pageantry International systems.
- STYLE: To provide women and men with opportunities for personal growth, fitness and self-expression. To emphasize the importance of doing one's best while championing career goals.

I would like to end by saying thank you all for coming and supporting my team and myself. I extend this invitation to all of you who are Star Ambassadors every day by doing the positive work in making our world a better place.

Sincerely,

Michael Lewis-McBride

Purpose

NEW YORK Intercontinental

“You Rise by Lifting Others” is the motto by which I Stevie Marie Miles live by. As an Applied Behavioral therapist with a Bachelor of Science in Speech Language Pathology/ Audiology and a dual Minor in Education and Mass Media Communications, it is no secret that I plans to lend my life to the empowerment of others. In my spare time, I enjoy working as a professional fashion model in New York City.

Some of my personal career high lights have been walking during New York Fashion Week and appearing in Cosmopolitan Magazine. I use my experience and the confidence that I have gained via modeling and beauty pageants to mentor young girls and women looking to improve their self-esteem. With my award winning platform entitled “Listen Up, Turn it Down: The Auditory Safety Initiative”, I plans to use this title to continue my work to increase Auditory Safety Awareness within today’s youth.

I would like to thank my family, friends and sponsors for making my journey as Miss Intercontinental New York 2017 possible.

I am most definitely looking forward to forming new lifelong friendships with my sister queens and the Miss Intercontinental USA family.

Mister Virginia Star

International

IT'S UP TO YOU

If you think you're a winner you'll win, If you dare to step out you'll succeed.
Believe in your heart, have a purpose to start, Aim to help fellow man in his need.
Thoughts of faith must replace every doubt, Words of courage and you cannot fail.
If you stumble and fall, rise and stand ten feet tall,
You determine the course that you sail.

Greetings to all, near, far and beyond our beautiful U.S. shores to yours. I am Ameena Marissa Gilley, 26 years of age and I am truly humbled and honored to proudly represent and uphold the title as your Miss Georgia Intercontinental U.S. 2017. Originally a Florida native born in St.Petersburg, I have traveled numerous times throughout my life to the state of Georgia and currently have family who reside there in whom I plan to soon join.

Although having visited many cities in different parts of the state in which I represent, with each being as exciting and unique as the other, each time I'd always take away a very positive experience and in it was the realization that the very Earth, streets, brick and stone in which I strolled, the buildings in which I gazed upon were pure history. Some coming from the darkest depths and shadows of existence, only to gratefully give rise to light. In that light were those who opted and challenged to rise above for not only others, such as in the numerous Civil Rights movements featuring Dr. Martin Luther King, civil rights activist Walter White, Benjamin Mays, Joseph Lowery and Andrew and Jean Childs-Young along side several others but also themselves for others, such as the famed, late Horace Charles Robinson, better known as Ray Charles.

A once impoverished, young African-American male later to become blind, some how through the encouragement and aid of what family he had left, Mr. Charles had applied his natural talents by mastering the art and skill of a musician and singer overcoming all of the overwhelming odds against him, to then become none other than one of the most successful and influential entertainers of all time. Just acknowledging the fact that there were once people like those mentioned previously and still are, not only in Georgia or the U.S. but all over our global hemispheres from continent to continent, within country to country, accomplishing the greatest of feats, inspired me to be a better, more caring, patient, wiser, and compassionate intellectual than I was the day before.

Constantly yearning to learn more, I am pre-med student entering junior year as well as a four-year-veteran employee of the Orlando Health Hospital Organization, for I currently work in surgery at the Winnie Palmer Obstetrics and Gynecological Hospital for women and babies located in downtown Orlando, Florida. I seek to obtain my bachelor's degree majoring in Biochemistry with a minor in engineering. After receiving my board-certified medical degree, I plan on pursuing my skills in joining the Doctors Without Borders, an organization in which international medical professionals across the world provide top-grade medical care, disaster relief, nourishment and aid to those stricken with disease and famine in underdeveloped countries. To me, it is a truly cultivating experience in binding trust in regions where fear is instilled the most.

Above all other pageant organizations, I chose the Miss Intercontinental U.S. for this system grants me the prestigious opportunity to accept the greatest challenge of my life. A challenge I have never personally endeavored or explored before, which would be considered the most important one, the one against myself, surpassing personal limitations, persevering and enlightening myself with a deeper understanding of all cultures along the journey.

I strongly believe in the Miss Intercontinental U.S. motto, "Crown With a Purpose" and what it means to me, is that if given the competitive opportunity to proudly represent the honorable title, I will use it to raise awareness, hopefully on a global scale, of endometriosis and several other painful, debilitating gynecological abnormalities in women throughout the world with a platform called "Beauty and Bravery," motivating women, giving them strength, as well as a voice for I myself, am a sufferer from gynecological abnormalities and so women as a whole can be encouraged that she can still achieve and impact the world and she is unworthy.

Furthermore, I stand behind the Miss Intercontinental philosophy which states, "the program is to encourage young women to develop skills that will ultimately help them win in life by being their personal best in everything they do..." I want to not only strive and be my best but also to influence and inspire others the way so many have done for myself, including God, my upbringing and my mentors. Thank you so much for your time.

Yours Truly,

Miss Georgia Intercontinental U.S 2017

Founder / June Daguiso

WORLD MUSIC & INDEPENDENT FILM FESTIVAL

In 2009, June Daguiso, a resident of Virginia, began building what would become the World Music & Independent Film Festival (WMIFF). "My mission and objective was to create a platform not only for the DC, Maryland, and Virginia indie filmmakers, but also to provide a platform of achievements for international cinema artists." Since its early beginnings in 2010, WMIFF has continued promoting filmmakers and musicians to a global audience.

We are dedicated to building a global film community and supporting emerging filmmakers. WMIFF has continued to strive and improve on its mission to promote and provide opportunities for artists of all genres to hone their skills and gain access to opportunities via our events, promotions, and networking opportunities.
